Access Benefits

Educator Access now offers more dining deals that get dinner done with less time, less money and less hassle. Looking for a quick bite? Use your Access card to log on to the Educator Access website and do a quick search before going out. Locate fast food restaurants in your area where your Access membership pays off and save up to 50% by printing an online coupon.

Or, if you'd rather sit down and relax for dinner, Access is loaded with casual and fine-dining favorites in neighborhoods nationwide. Popular restaurant chains include Johnny Rockets, Round Table Pizza or Tony Romas. Also, if you haven't checked lately for discounts at locally owned restaurants near you, you may be in for a surprise.

Zagat-rated French, Italian and Greek establishments can be found in most local search result. What's more, if a favorite eatery isn't on the program, members can let Access know and the dining spot may be recruited into the program (see Personalize Your Savings Program With Your Favorite Merchants, "Shops & Restaurants").

“What’s For Dinner?” Affordable Answers to the Daily Question

Like many these days, educator Ms. Lewis is feeling the pinch as the economy has weakened. “With the rising cost of just living from day to day, every penny counts,” she explains. As a result, members like Ms. Lewis are using the Access program now more than ever to help stretch their dollar and having great success. She reports, “Since I have been an Access member, I have saved hundreds of dollars on car maintenance, travel, hotel and food.”

According to Emily Hayes, Director of Educator Access, “Finances are tight for many these days, and many Access members are increasingly seeking savings at the places where they already shop. Members who use the program regularly with their everyday purchases are literally saving hundreds of dollars a year.” The program has added even more local discounts around the country to help members with their day-to-day expenses.

Whether it’s a haircut or an oil change, school supplies, or dinner and a movie, members everywhere will find new locations close to home. It pays to spend a few minutes online to find deals before heading out. “Educators across the country have saved up to 50% off at retailers and restaurants for years,” reports Hayes. “Today, we see the program becoming even more important to members in this tough economy.”
